

Technical News Release

A publication of the Technical Support Services Department of Intercon Chemical

Revision of Precautionary Labeling for PRO-CON RED.

Intercon announces that the Precautionary Labeling for Intercon product PRO-CON RED has been changed to DANGER on the center panel of the product label and in Section VI - Storage & Handling Information on the Material Safety Data Sheet.

In our constant review and revision of product safety information, we determined that this product is better classified with the signal word being DANGER, than its previous classification, WARNING. This change in product labeling and MSDS will occur after our current stock of PRO-CON RED has been depleted.

If you have questions about this or any other Intercon product, please call Intercon Technical Services at (800) 325-9218 ext. 580 (Jim Smith) or ext. 240 (Don Unger).
